

Dear FCC Chairperson,

I have been an avid listener to XM for more than a year. I drive throughout the United States a lot and XM is the only service provider that I can rely on to get weather conditions or traffic no matter where I am. I have tried before to dial in to a local broadcast, but couldn't pick any up. Please allow XM to continue to provide this valuable service. I do pay for the service and the Traffic and Weather was one of the main selling points for me.

For all the drivers that drive between cities and states on a frequent basis, please allow us the access to this information.

Thank you for your time and support.
